EIM Celebrates 25th Anniversary at Risk Managers Information Meeting

Three hundred thirty-seven people—121 Member representatives, 78 Member brokers, and 22 past directors and their spouses, including the five founding directors—kicked off Energy Insurance Mutual’s 25th anniversary year at the 2011 Risk Managers Information Meeting at the JW Marriott Orlando, Grande Lakes, south of Orlando, Feb. 20-22.

In addition to the anniversary theme, the meeting also embraced the title of a popular song from 1986, the Company’s founding year. “The Future’s So Bright” was taken from the song’s title, “The Future’s So Bright, I Gotta Wear Shades.”

The primary anniversary event was Saturday, Feb. 19, a Directors Dinner, honoring directors, both past and present. Forty-four men and women from EIM Member Companies have served since the founding on June 13, 1986.

The business sessions were Monday and Tuesday mornings. On Monday, the first David L. Hadler Risk Management Award was presented to Gary Meggs, director, risk management, Southern Company, and EIM management gave, as a panel led by President Scott Goodell, a “state-of-the-company” report. The session ended with a guest speaker. The highlight of the Tuesday session was three breakout sessions, each repeated, on Emerging Issues, Enterprise Risk Management, and Energy Insurance Services.

The EIM staff was the primary entertainment for the star-studded Monday night dinner when nine EIMMYs were presented to various EIM Member Companies and risk managers.

25th Anniversary Directors Dinner

On Saturday evening, the 2011 RMIM began with a salute to the 44 men and women who have served or are serving as directors of EIM since its founding in 1986. Thirteen past directors, including all five of the founding directors, were present. Other guests included IAC members, two Company retirees, and two long-time consultants. Following Chairman Jim Hatfield's welcome, a Company update was given by Scott Goodell, EIM president; Tommy Bolton, CFO; Jill Dominguez, vice president, underwriting; and Robert Schmid, COO, Energy Insurance Services.

Sunday Night

A reception and dinner took place Sunday evening in the Palazzo Ballrooms. After dinner, the entertainer was Joe Piscopo of SNL fame, who does an outstanding Sinatra. During Mr. Piscopo's act, Risk Manager Dean Jobko's singing talents were discovered!

At the reception, guests received Maui Jim sunglasses—a gift in honor of the Company's 25th Anniversary and a nod to the 25th RMIM's theme, "The Future's So Bright."

Tuesday's Business Session

The second business session began with stand-up corporate comic and author, Greg Schwem. Copies of his book, Text Me if You're Breathing, were given to all attendees. Greg autographed many of the books at the break. Also, Tuesday morning, there were two rounds of breakout sessions, making it possible for attendees to sit in on two of the three sessions: Emerging Issues led by the IAC; Energy Insurance Services; and Enterprise Risk Management. The second business session of the conference ended with a general session in which each of the breakouts was recapped.
